Blood Pressure Measurement

$29.00

Blood pressure is a way to determine if the pet has hypertension and in need of medication. Hypertension can be related to several conditions which older pets can develop such as heart or kidney disease.

Cardiac Pro-BNP Blood Test

$106.00

Pro-BNP is an enzyme that is produced by heart muscle. When elevated it can indicate that the heart muscle is stretching and could be related to heart disease. This is a good quantitative way to screen for heart disease.

Tonometry

$37.50

This is a measurement for pressures of eyes. A good screening for both uveitis “inflammation” and glaucoma.

Electrocardiogram

$64.00

EKG helps assess the heart rhythm, to determine if there are any arrhythmias or enlarged chambers to the heart.

Three Chest Radiographs Including Interpretation From A Boarded Certified Radiologist

$297.50

Chest radiographs help determine the size of the heart and pathology of the lungs. These radiographs will also allow us to assess the integrity of the trachea and thoracic lymph nodes. Chest radiographs are also a good metastasis check, determining if there are any masses within the lungs.

Two Abdominal Radiographs Including Interpretation From A Boarded Certified Radiologist

$258.50

Abdominal radiographs help the doctor assess organ size and positions. Radiographs of the abdomen also included the spine, which is a good screen for position and bone changes. We will look for unusual findings in the intestines and urinary system and this is also a way to monitor for masses.
